

Introducing Inheritance Dispute Funding

The pandemic has put financial pressures on both law firms and consumers. If you've got a customer who wants to dispute a will - how do you stop them walking away if they can't afford the average upfront costs of £5,000?

Join our webinar to find out how our new product - Inheritance Dispute Funding - can help...

Tuesday 25 May at midday

Just email info@towerstreetfinance.co.uk and we'll send you joining instructions

1 in 4 people would contest the will of a loved one if they were unhappy with the division of the estate.

With an average of 600,000 deaths in the UK each year that's a potential of 150,000 contentious probate cases.

We have a £30m funding line for our panel of inheritance dispute lawyers

Just like our other products – Inheritance Advance and IHT Loan - IDF offers unique benefits to solicitors and customers

- ✓ No credit checks
- ✓ No assessment costs (decision based on information supplied by the solicitor)
- ✓ Funding amount agreed - 100% of costs covered
- ✓ Repaid from the inheritance
- ✓ No personal liability, no monthly repayments

"Tower Street Finance has an appetite and willingness to lend and to make it straightforward and quick. My previous experience of using litigation funders in the probate dispute sector was so poor that I stopped using them altogether years ago - it was slow, expensive and difficult to navigate for both me and the clients. The introduction of Inheritance Dispute Funding will change that!"
